

Republican Hispanic Legislators Launch Caucus

Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus

Aims To Advance Conservative Hispanic Legislative Priorities

Austin, TX - Today marks a significant milestone in Texas government as the bi-cameral Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus proudly announces its formation, ushering in a new era of leadership for conservative principles and values in the Lone Star State. The Caucus is made up of distinguished members of both chambers of the Texas Legislature, including State Senator Pete Flores and State Representatives Ryan Guillen, J.M. Lozano, John Lujan, Janie Lopez, and Mano DeAyala.

"I am honored to be a founding member of the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus," said Representative Ryan Guillen, "Together, we pave the way to advance conservative Hispanic priorities in a bi-cameral fashion, fostering a Texas that thrives on law & order, free enterprise, and personal liberty."

"Being members of the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus will help us to reach across the rotunda to advance the legislative priorities of conservative Hispanic Texans" said Senator Pete Flores, "And it isn't just Hispanic Texans, all conservative Texans will benefit from our bi-cameral commitment to getting things done."

"I find great purpose in joining the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus," said Representative J.M. Lozano, "By championing conservative Hispanic values across both chambers of the Texas Capitol, we strive to shape a future where every Texan can thrive."

The formation of the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus marks a significant development in the Texas Legislature, highlighting a newfound cohesion among the Hispanic Republican members across both chambers of the Texas Capitol. The Caucus members aim to, in a bi-cameral fashion, amplify the voices and priorities of conservative Hispanics from across the state.

"It is an honor to work together with my fellow Hispanic Republicans at the Texas Capitol," said Representative Janie Lopez, "Forming the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus will further amplify our voices on behalf of our constituents."

“Our individual constituencies supported us with their vote to bring their concerns to Austin,” said Representative John Lujan, “Joining forces via the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus will help us make sure their concerns are addressed.”

“I look forward to seeing the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus successfully leverage our members’ combined experience, ability, and relationships to advance conservative priorities of our communities in both chambers of the People’s Capitol in Austin,” said Representative Mano DeAyala.

To learn more about the Texas Hispanic Republican Caucus, visit www.txhrcaucus.com

###

Senator Pete Flores serves as the Chairman of the Texas Senate Criminal Justice Committee. In 2018, he was the first Hispanic Republican elected to the Texas Senate in history.

Representative Ryan Guillen serves as the Chairman of the Texas House Homeland Security & Public Safety Committee and the Select Committee on Community Safety. In 2022, he made history as the first Republican to win Jim Hogg County in history, and Starr and Duval County since Reconstruction.

Representative J.M. Lozano serves as Chairman of the Texas House Urban Affairs Committee. He made history in 2012 as the first Republican elected to represent Kleberg County in the Texas Legislature.

Representative John Lujan serves as the Vice Chair of the Texas House Juvenile Justice and Family Issues Committee and is the first Republican to represent HD 118.

Representative Janie Lopez made history in 2022 as she became the first Hispanic Republican female ever elected to the Legislature to represent a district in the Rio Grande Valley.

Representative Mano DeAyala is the second Hispanic Republican ever elected to the Legislature out of Harris County and is also the first Hispanic Republican to represent HD 133.